911 Dispatcher Arrested On Sex-Related Charge

By Paul B. Hayes
Editor

A dispatcher at the Adair County 911 Center was arrested Tuesday on a warrant from Larue County charging him with promoting a sexual performance by a minor, a felony offense.

James O. Absher, 49, of Liberty Road, Columbia, was arrested Tuesday at the 911 Center by Sheriff Harrison Moss. Absher was also terminated from his job at the same time by Judge/Executive Ann Melton.

Treasure Finders Reaps Bucks For Adair Countians

By Paul B. Hayes
Editor

Kentucky State Treasurer Todd Hollenback brought his “Treasure Finders” program to Columbia Friday to help Adair County find unclaimed property that is being held by the state, and many people left with smiles on their faces.

While most of the folks found out that their unclaimed property amounted to a couple of hundred dollars or less, one man, who did not want to be identified, hit the jackpot, finding out the state is

New School Named Adair County Primary Center

By Wes Feese

The Adair County Board of Education has decided on a name for the new elementary school that is currently under construction. At the board’s monthly meeting, which was moved from Thursday night to Monday at noon due to the lack of a quorum on Thursday, the board voted to name the new school the Adair County Primary Center.

There had been support expressed to retain the name of Colonel William Casey for the school due to the fact that Colonel Casey established the first school in the county, and the board did agree to honor this support by naming the street on which the school will be located Col. Casey Drive.

Board member Mike Harris said that the name fits because now every school in the district carries the “Adair County” moniker. Alan Reed said that Col. Casey Drive preserves some of the history of the school system as well as the former elementary school. The Colonel was shortened to “Col.” and “William” was removed to make the address more concise.

In other action at the meeting the board elected to join the National School Boards Association in their resolution opposing

Wellnitz’ Murders To Be Subject Of “Unusual Suspects”

By Paul B. Hayes
Editor

Any long-time resident of Adair County, or anyone old enough to remember events from almost 20 years ago, knows about the Wellnitz’ murders.

Now, everyone in the county, as well as the rest of the nation, will be able to find out about the long-running case, as it will be profiled on the series Unusual Suspects which airs on the Investigation Discovery channel.

In one of the most heinous crimes in the history of Adair County, the bullet-riddled bodies of Dr. Joe Wellnitz, DVM, his wife Beth and their son Dennis were found in their home just outside of Columbia on Conover Lane the morning of Feb. 26, 1993.

The murders left the community in a state of shock, as no one could image why someone would want to kill the popular veterinarian, his wife and son, who were very well known and well liked in the county they had lived for the past 12 years.

It took investigators from the Kentucky State Police almost 10 years to get a break in the case, and when they did it resulted in the arrests of the Wellnitz’ daughter, Margaret Ann “Meg” Wellnitz Appleton and her friend and actual gunman, William Harry “Bill” Meece, both Lexington residents.

Meg Wellnitz Appleton pleaded guilty to the terrible crimes just as her trial was scheduled to start, and received a sentence of life in

Paul's Ponderings

Editorial Commentary
Written By
Paul B. Hayes, EDITOR

We'll be celebrating Halloween next Wednesday night, and that means that another year will be five-sixths over. It seems like the old time machine has burnt out its brakes and its throttle is stuck wide open it's passing by so fast.

Halloween is a whole lot different nowadays than it was in my youth. On Wednesday night, kids can dress up, pick up their buckets, plastic pumpkins or sacks and go around the square for Treats on the Town. They can also stop by the fire house, or maybe a church or two that are hosting truck-or-treats, and gather up enough candy to make them sick for several days.

Growing up out in the country, there wasn't a lot of emphasis placed on Halloween and trick-or-treating. It's hard to go door-to-door when you neighbors' houses are a quarter mile or more apart, and I don't recall my parents ever bringing us to town to solicit candy, although they may have done it on a limited basis a couple of times.

By the time we moved to town for our couple of year stay, I considered myself too old – age 12 –to go trick-or-treating, so our gang in the Young Addition resorted more to the tricking part of the occasion. We shot off plenty of firecrackers, and had some serious water balloon and egg fights, going home soaked in both water and egg yokes and trying to make it to the bathroom to get out of your clothes before your mother caught you.

However, it wasn't until I moved back to the country that I truly got into the "tricking" part of Halloween. There was a rather rowdy group of boys growing up around Gradyville at that time, about 15 to 18 that were within two to four years in age of each other, and we all got together on Halloween. We never did destroy anything, burn anything down, or intentionally hurt someone, but we did a little bit of everything else.

Fireworks were still a big part of our Halloween, but instead of just plain firecrackers – which we had cases of – we broadened our arsenal to include M-80s, Cherry Bombs, and Roman Candles. These we would shoot anywhere we could get a good scare out of someone. A favorite trick was to put a M-80 under a bucket. It had to be a stout bucket to survive an M-80 attack. Another favorite pastime was to shoot Roman Candles at each other. If you were a little distance away, they didn't hurt too bad when you got hit, and if you got your clothes put out in time. Our closest escape with Roman Candles occurred when we nearly set a graveyard on fire with them. The graveyard itself didn't catch fire, but there was a high bank around two sides of it, and we did a great job of burning the broomsedge off them.

There were always groups of similar age boys that gathered in the Portland and Sparksville neighborhoods to do just like we were doing, and at sometime during the night two or three pickup loads of us would wind up in their area, or them in ours, and we'd battle with water balloons, eggs, and other thrown projectiles such as water soaked crab apples or, the worst thing of all, rotten peppers. Growing peppers was a big thing back then, so we had plenty of ammunition.

We'd do other things that were pretty common occurrences for Halloween back then, such as blocking back roads with hay bales, and we even carried out the time honored trick of putting someone's outhouse on top of their house.

Two of our "tricks" that I most remember occurred right in the heart of downtown Gradyville. Once, Richie Janes, who ran one of the two stores, forgot and left his blocks of animal salt sitting on his front porch, and we put one on the front porch of everyone in Gradyville.

The second "trick" involved a whole lot more effort. We set out to "borrow" every farmer's tractor wagon in the area, even taking several from the farms of those taking part in the escapade. Many of them had tobacco stalks on them, so we'd dump the tobacco stalks in the parking lot of the other store, then owned by Edgar Compton, then took the empty wagons the parking lot at Richie Janes' store, where we managed to stack them three or even four high.

It took Richie a little while to get his parking lot cleared out the next morning, as it did Edgar, but no one got mad, everyone got his tractor wagon back, and we had something to talk and laugh about for quite some time.

Today, no doubt we'd either all ended up in jail or shot.

Roads...

Traveling down highway 206 to Columbia is a scenic drive this time of year. Yes, there are curves, some sharp ones, but that adds some variety to driving; certainly not like the monotonous drives on parkways and interstates.

We take good roads for granted today. Even some of the gravel and dirt roads, seldom encountered, but certainly still in existence, are generally in better condition than were the roads of a century ago.

The Adair County News of a century ago was regularly filled with complaints about the county's roads. From time to time there were positive comments, and pleas for more work that would lead to better travel and, of course, business for town and county.

From The Adair County News, 30 October 1912:
The Road We Must Have—
The proposed automobile pike-way from Columbia, KY., to Jamestown, KY., will have less grades and will cost less money than any road of its length that may be built in the State and I doubt if there is another prospective road in the State that would promise more to more people than this proposed road.

First, it will be a paying investment to the stock-holders from the start. Second, it will revolutionize the entire commercial phase of Southern, KY. This proposed road is the key to a large number of counties that have no railroad advantages, but now the automobile has come to the relief of such as have no railroad. A good pike with automobile service would be a greater blessing to more people than a railroad. With the rapid transit of autos, the traveling public can make schedule time and will leave the heavy hauling for men who have teams, and they can do this hauling and save money without paying their hard earned money "to the mud tax." This mud tax demands greater tribute from the tax-payers of this country than all other taxes combined and many times more.

When this road is completed from Columbia to Jamestown, this will be the incentive for other roads. It will be but a short time until the Dunnville pike will be extended to intercept at Russell Springs, and others extending from Columbia to other points; but the one main essential road, is the twenty-one miles that will connect us with Campbellsville and Greasy Creek boat landing on Cumberland River.

Anyone who will make this proposed road a study can see at a glance that such a road will affect three of the largest commercial cities in our country, and will turn through this section of country a stream of commerce that will materially affect everybody in the entire country. It will set the wheels rolling; it will enhance the value of real estate. It will bring new life and vigor into the country. It will bring good citizenship, better schools, better churches, and will help us in many ways that we have not space to mention. I have found this the best tomato growing section in the State. In a grocery store in Columbia there were eleven tomatoes, grown (in) this section, weighing twelve pounds. I saw sorghum in Jamestown—a home product, that would bring 75 cents to $1 per gallon in the market. Big Sandy nor no other country I have seen, can produce such quality of syrup.

I believe that this land between Columbia and Jamestown can be made to yield one hundred dollars per acre to the man who will make it yield up its sweetness to him.

Men, let's have this road. We propose to build this road by subscription... Let me hear from anyone interested.

Yours for the road, J.P. Bicknell, Berea, KY.

Secretary Grimes Announces New Voter Registration Record Ahead Of General Election

Kentuckians have again broken the record for voter registration, adding 57,145 voters to the rolls since the previous record was set before the May 2012 Primary Election. According to Secretary of State Alison Lundergan Grimes, a total of 3,037,153 Kentuckians are eligible to head to the polls on November 6, 2012.

"Our democratic government works best when all citizens are engaged, so I am excited to see Kentuckians eager to be involved in the process," said Grimes. "I hope we can translate this record registration into record participation on Election Day."

There has been an increase of more than 130,000 registered voters since the last Presidential Election, in 2008, at which time 2,906,809 citizens were registered. The total number of registered voters has increased by 1.92 percent since the 2012 Primary Election. In comparison, voter registration figures increased by a net of 26,766, or less than 1 percent, from the 2011 Primary to the 2011 General Election. Leading up to the 2008 General Election, registration totals increased by 49,578 voters, or 1.74 percent.

Each of the political parties has seen an increase in registered voters since the May 2012 Primary. Democrats have grown their ranks by 1.15 percent, or 18,926 voters, from 1,646,927 to 1,665,853. Republicans have added 28,884 voters, growing 2.57 percent from 1,122,447 to 1,151,331. "Other" has increased by 9,334 voters, or 4.43 percent, from 210,635 to 219,969.

Consistent with recent years, the electorate is comprised of approximately 53 percent women and 47 percent men. Democrats now make up 54.85 percent of Kentucky voters, and 37.91 percent

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Candidate Brian Wright

Dear Editor,

This letter is to endorse the candidacy of Mr. Brian Wright for Judge in the 29th Judicial Circuit.

Almost 10 years ago, after the arrest of those indicted in the murders of my brother and his family, I met Mr. Wright and his staff in Liberty, KY. From that first meeting, and to this day, he has been very straightforward, considerate of our position and honest in his appraisal of very complex legal issues. I am sure that this attitude would be present in a courtroom where he was judge.

He has a total of 14 years experience in the commonwealth attorney's office. The last 10 years he has been the lead attorney. During those years, Mr. Wright has prosecuted hundreds of cases, including death penalty trials. This level of experience and expertise makes him uniquely qualified to be an effective judge.

It is a time in our country when many of our core institutions seem to be under attack. I could only wish that all of Kentucky's judges could be as caring and competent as Brian Wright. Once again, Mr. Wright has my support and endorsement in the 29th Judicial Circuit Judges race.

Sincerely,
Bill Wellnitz

ACHS Wins Attendance Day Competition in Region 14

Congratulations to the faculty, staff, students and parents at Adair County High School. According to Ms. Brenda Mann, Assistant Superintendent of Student Services, ACHS was tops in attendance for all schools in Region 14 on September 8, 2012, a day designated by the Department of Education as "Attendance Day". Region 14 is comprised of twelve counties. Adair County High School won by achieving a daily attendance rate of 96.18%.

Mann credited everyone for their hard work saying, "I'm really excited about the direction our attendance is taking. We're moving up thanks to our staff, parents and students."

Mann made the announcement during the district administrator's meeting on Thursday, October 18, 2012.

19th-Annual 'safe halloween' To Be Held Oct. 30 For Area Children

Area children can get started on Halloween a day early this year.

Lindsey Wilson College's 19th-annual "Safe Halloween" will be held from 6-8 p.m. CT Tuesday, Oct. 30. The event -- which is free and open to the public -- allows area children to trick-or-treat through LWC residence halls.

LWC students lead area children and their guardians through the college's residence halls. The halls' residents, many of whom are also in costume, hand out candy to children. All items distributed are individually wrapped, pre-packaged, store-bought candy. The tour takes about 45 minutes.

A total of six residence hall will participate in the program, and halls will be decorated in a variety of themes. The event is sponsored by LWC Residence Life and Student Activities.

"By the time they reach the end of their journey, students have a lot of candy to take home," said LWC Student Activities Director Jayne Hopkins. "It's a fun, safe event that's become a big LWC tradition."

In addition to collecting candy, children also enjoy seeing the residence halls' creative decorations.

"Children always enjoy seeing the different themes the residence halls select each year," Hopkins said. "A lot of Lindsey Wilson faculty and staff tour the halls before 'Safe Halloween' begins because they enjoy seeing the halls' decorations as well."

Children and their guardians will begin their "Safe Halloween" journey in the LWC Cralle Student Union Building, where LWC students will offer a variety of activities, including face-painting.

"I've already have at least 10 Lindsey Wilson students ask if they help with the face-painting because that's one of the more popular activities," Hopkins said.

Lindsey Wilson College's 19th-annual "Safe Halloween" will be from 6-8 p.m. CT Tuesday, Oct. 30. For more information about "Safe Halloween," contact LWC Residence Life Office info@lindsey.edu or (270) 384-8521.

Treats On The Town

groups, elected officials, families and individuals are all welcome to set up around the square and pass out individually wrapped treats to the kids. Participants are encouraged to dress in costume and decorate your treats table.

"Treats on the Town provides a great opportunity for the kids to come to one place and be safe while collecting treats for Halloween," Debbie Selby, chairperson of the event said. "Kids don't have to walk on dark streets, or be in traffic like they would if they go door-to-door."

Last year, around 1,200 kids came to Treats on the Town, and Selby said she expects as many or even more to attend this year.

"We already have between 15 and 20 registered to set up tables and participate, and I'm sure we'll have more," Selby said. "All you have to do is call me and we'll assign you a spot."

Selby can be reached at the Bank of Columbia, 384-6433, or by cell phone at 250-1046. You can also register by calling the Chamber office at 384-6020.

Halloween Hours and Tips

The Columbia Police Department wishes to remind everyone that Halloween will be observed in Columbia on Oct. 31 from the hours of 5 to 8 p.m. Motorists are reminded to take extra precaution at this time and observe for pedestrians. Parents should make sure younger children are accompanied by an adult or older sibling. Children should carry a flashlight, glow stick or have reflective clothing or tape. Instruct your child to only approach homes that are well lit both inside and outside, and not enter a strange house or car. Make sure your children are able to see, and breathe properly when using masks and can walk in their costume without tripping. Talk with your children about strangers, and inspect your child's candy before they eat it. Discard any unwrapped or suspicious looking treats. If your child gets sick, contact your doctor or the hospital emergency room immediately and save all wrappers.

No Breaking Developments In UCB Robbery

BY PAUL B. HAYES
EDITOR

The Columbia Police Department is continuing to investigate the Oct. 15 armed robbery at the United Citizens Bank branch on Campbellsville Road, but there have been no new major developments in the case.

"We keep getting names (of possible suspects) and are following up on them, but nothing has panned out so far," CPD Det. Tracy McCarol, who is leading the investigation, said Tuesday afternoon.

McCarol said they have lifted some fingerprints from the pickup truck belonging to bank manager Mike Curry which the robber got away in, and have also swabbed for touch DNA, and will be taking these to the Kentucky State Police Crime Lab in Frankfort this week. However, McCarol said it could be some time before they get any results.

"They're so far behind at the crime lab it could be six months or more before they can check our material," he noted.

The robber, described as being a white male around 5'10" in height, weighing 200-250 lbs. and around 60 years old, entered the bank around 3:30 p.m. on Oct. 15, asked to see a loan officer, then pulled a pistol on bank manager Curry and get him a substantial amount of money.

After another bank employee went into the vault and came back with the money, the robber took Curry hostage and the left the bank in Curry's Ford Ranger pickup. The robber let Curry out of the truck at Pablo's Mexican Restaurant, then circled back and drove into the Dollar General Store parking lot. He abandoned Curry's truck and apparently escaped in a vehicle that was parked in the store's parking lot.

Anyone with any information on the robbery is asked to call the Columbia Police Department at 384-4119, Dispatch at 384-6464 or any other law enforcement agency.

are Republicans. 7.24 percent of voters are identified as "Other." For Democrats, the figures represent a decrease in percentage of voters since May 2012, with a change of -0.42 percent; Republicans and "Other" increased their relative representation by 0.24 percent and 0.17 percent, respectively.

Since the 2008 General Election, there has been a net increase of 130,344 total voters, or 4.48 percent. There are 3,760 more Democrats, for an increase of 0.23 percent; 97,460 more Republicans, for an increase of 9.25 percent; and 29,124 more "Other" voters, for an increase of 15.26 percent. Since November 2008, the percentage of the electorate represented by each group has shifted -2.33 percent for Democrats, 1.65 percent for Republicans, and 0.67 percent for "Other."

The Lake Cumberland Area Chapter of the American Red Cross Announces New Disaster Services Coordinator

The Lake Cumberland Area Chapter of the American Red Cross announces that Bonita "Bo" Smith has joined the Red Cross team as its new Disaster Service Coordinator.

Mrs. Smith has been a Disaster Services Volunteer with the Red Cross for several years. Bo's previous Red Cross assignments include working the June 2011 flood in Bell and Knox counties and assisting during the tornado that hit Laurel County in March of this year. She has also worked numerous single family house fires.

"We feel privileged to have Bo as part of the Chapter. The chapter and community will be well-served with her expertise and experience as we prepare for potential emergencies and disasters in our service area," explains Lake Cumberland Area Chapter Board Chair Megan Damron.

Smith began her new duties with the American Red Cross on October 15. Her office is located at 209 East Mount Vernon Street in Somerset. She can be reached at 606-678-4364.

The Lake Cumberland Area Chapter serves Pulaski, McCreary, Clinton, Russell, Wayne, Adair and Cumberland counties.

About the American Red Cross:

The American Red Cross shelters, feeds and provides emotional support to victims of disasters; supplies about 40 percent of the nation's blood; teaches skills that save lives; provides international shower and getting dressed.

The videoing of the stepdaughter reportedly continued when the family moved to Elizabethtown. It was after the family moved to Elizabethtown that the hidden camera was discovered by the son, and the incident reported to Kentucky State Police Post #4 in Elizabethtown.

An investigation was launched by Det. Ryan Johnson, who executed a search warrant and found the video camera that contained video of the stepdaughter in the bathroom undressing and taking a shower. The stepdaughter was 17 years old at the time the incidents occurred.

Writer Bud Willis Wins Major Literary Award

The name Bud Willis isn't exactly a household word in spite of the fact that he is to accept the 2012 Distinguished Arts and Humanities Medal for Literary Arts in Memphis on November 9. This honor was formerly bestowed on John Grisham, Eudora Welty, Shelby Foote and other luminaries in the world of literature.

Many area residents know Bud's wife, Lee Barnes Willis, a native of Columbia. Lee is now the real estate broker for The Willis Group, LLC, in Naples, Florida, where Bud and she have lived since 2003.

A graduate of Tullahoma High in Tullahoma, Tennessee, in 1959, Bud is the sixth of nine children. Following his graduation from Tennessee Tech in 1963, he entered the U.S. Marine Corps and attended flight school at Pensacola, Florida and then New River Air Facility in Jacksonville, North Carolina, to prepare for combat aviation. From February, 1966, until April, 1967, Bud was decorated 32 times as he flew 640 combat missions as a Huey helicopter pilot at Marble Mountain Air Facility near Danang, Vietnam.

Marble Mountain: A Vietnam Memoir became the title of Bud's second book, a coming-of-age account about his life as a young Tennessean thrown into war. Written with honesty and appropriate humor, the book takes the reader through the real day-to-day experiences as Bud and his comrades-in-arms rescue hundreds of young servicemen who have become injured in battle. A defining moment in this saga led to Bud's appearance on the NBC Today Show with Kathy Lee Gifford and Hoda Kotb; featured from thousands of entries in a series called "Everyone Has a Story." Bud's account of a seriously injured young Marine (missing a leg, an arm, an ear and an eye) who sent a message to the pilot, "Thanks for the ride," was a television highlight of Veteran's Day, 2008.

Marble Mountain is not a memoir that celebrates the heroism of the author. It is a picture of the good, the bad and the ugly of war. It reveals that necessity for men to find humor in anything and everything they can in order to face the horrors and absurdity that control their lives.

Columbia area residents will also relish Bud's family memoir, Bluestocking, with intense interest as he describes his mother's rearing of nine children following the disappearance of her abusive husband. Bud's heartwarming description of how his family worked together to give every child a promising road to success is not to be missed.

Bud became an investment broker and later partner in Columbus, Mississippi, Clarksville and Memphis, Tennessee, Pensacola, Florida, and Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio. He was named Tennessee's Outstanding Young Man for service to his community, state and country. He also received the Community Involvement Award at the J.C. Bradford & Co. Leadership Convention in 1994, and served as Chairman of the committee to commission a billion dollar warship, the USS Mitscher when working in Pensacola, Florida.

Bud is now retired in Naples, Florida, after having served 34 years in the securities industry. With their Coton de Tulear, Boo, who is trained as a PAWS therapy dog to work with hospice patients, Lee and Bud keep a busy travel schedule as Bud speaks to audiences about his experiences and donates a portion of the sale of Marble Mountain to the Wounded Warrior Project.

Bud Willis has spent a life of service to his country and his family. This latest literary arts award is only fitting for an author who brings home from the diary he kept on Marble Mountain how wartime service changes the lives of those who serve.

Westlake Hospital Auxiliary Meeting October 19, 2012

The Westlake Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held on Monday, October 15th at 6:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order and a treasurer's report was given. Plans were finalized for the Christmas raffle of a crystal cake plate, the proceeds of which will go to the Auxiliary hospital fund. A jewelry sale will take place at the hospital on November 30th. It was announced that our annual pecan sale will be held as soon as the shipment arrives. An announcement will be posted on Columbia Magazine when they are available.

The Auxiliary will host a holiday dinner at the Pines for all members. This event will take the place of the Auxiliary's November meeting. A definite day and time will be announced later. A motion was made and seconded to make a generous donation to the Hospital from our treasury.

The speaker for the evening was Hosparus representative Annette Jones. She told us about the services provided by Hosparus, and discussed the requirements for volunteer work with the organization.

Present for the meeting were: Delwin Blair, Shirley Grider, Evelyn Phelps, Margie Coffey, Margaret Sparks, Sue Stivers, Shirley Reliford, Lila Loy, Wanda Bardin, Louise Brock, Vickie Miller, Betty Thorsen and Marty Brown.

THE LINE OF PEOPLE wanting to find out if they had unclaimed property started out long and remained that way for the entire day, resulting in the representatives from State Treasurer Todd Hollenback's office staying an additional two hours. Over 200 people came in to get the process underway for them to claim their property being held by the state. (Photos by Paul B. Hayes)

STATE TREASURER Todd Hollenback looked over some paper work with Christine Ellis during the Treasure Finders program. Ellis was checking to see if her late father had unclaimed property.

holding roughly $100,000 for him.

"He hit it big time," Mark Pfeiffer, director of Unclaimed Property and Communication for the Treasurer who was one of two assistants that checked people's claims, said. "His mother had passed away, and she had left some stocks, dividends, insurance policies, etc. that he was unaware of. I think he had a total of 15 different claims."

All in all, around 200 people came through the doors at the Chamber of Commerce building Friday. A long line formed early, and Hollenback and his crew ended up staying an extra two hours over the four that were scheduled, to check out claims for people and help them get started on the paperwork to return their money.

"We're currently processing a little over 200 claims," Pfeiffer said in a telephone interview Tuesday. "I'd estimate the value of all the claims at $150,000 or so, which is almost a third of the $460,000 that is owed to Adair Countians."

Pfeiffer said that Friday's participation in the Treasure Finders program is one of the best they've had.

"It was a great turnout, it ranks right up there with some of the best ones we've had," he noted.

State Treasurer Hollenback also said that he was very pleased with Friday's turnout, as he is with the entire Treasure Finders program.

"In my predecessor, Jonathan Miller's, two terms in office, he returned $48.5 million to the people of Kentucky," Hollenback said. "In my first term, we've already given back $52 million, and our goal is to double that amount during my first four years."

Hollenback said that he attributes the dramatic increase in returning unclaimed property to the Treasure Finders program.

"It's a proactive program where we are going out and letting people know that the state has unclaimed property for them," he said. "It's their money, and they deserve to get it back, especially in these tough economic times."

"The success of the individual programs like we're having today hinges a lot on local participation," he continued. "You have to have local officials, both county and city, the PVA, and other volunteers to call people and let them know they've got money coming, and Adair County has done an outstanding job doing this."

Several hundred individuals in Adair County are still owed over $300,000. Anyone interested in checking to see if they have unclaimed property can do so by calling the Treasurer's office toll free at 1-800-475-4722 or going to the department's web site at www.kytreasury.com.

Lindsey Wilson 81st Homecoming Weekend To Be Held Nov. 2nd-3rd

COLUMBIA, Ky. -- The Lindsey Wilson College National Alumni Association will honor two alumni and one longtime friend of the college at this year's homecoming weekend.

LWC's 81st-annual homecoming weekend will be held Nov. 2-3 on the college's A.P. White Campus.

In addition to the annual alumni awards breakfast, the weekend will include a classical music concert, pingpong tournament, road race, basketball games, a football game and a rededication of the college's historic V.P. Henry Auditorium.

"It's always great to have everyone back on campus -- to both see the incredible changes that have taken place over the last decade as well as catch up with old friends," said LWC Director of Alumni Relations Randy Burns. "This weekend will be a wonderful celebration of three special friends of the college, and it will also be great to rededicate V.P. Henry Auditorium."

At the alumni awards breakfast on Nov. 3, alumni Amanda Main of Louisville, Ky., and Ben Breeding of Bardstown, Ky., will be honored and Tula Peterson of Campbellsville, Ky., will be named an honorary alumna.

A 1997 LWC graduate, Main is a senior attorney at Brown-Forman Corp. who is a strong First Amendment advocate; she will receive the Outstanding Young Alumni Award. Breeding is a 1961 alumnus who retired from a distinguished career in chemicals and manufacturing; he will receive the Distinguished Alumnus Award. Peterson is a longtime supporter of the college's scholarship program; with the Honorary Alumna Award, she will join five of her siblings, who are LWC graduates.

Nov. 2 homecoming events will include the 12th-Annual Morris Shepherd '53 Pingpong, season-opening games for the LWC men's and women's basketball teams, and a concert by world-class violinist Midori and pianist Özgür Aydin.

Nov. 3 events will kick off with the fifth-annual Running with the Blue Raiders 5K race/walk at 7:30 a.m. CT at the Doris and Bob Holloway Health & Wellness Center. The 1:30 p.m. CT football game against Bethel (Tenn.) University will feature the crowning of the homecoming king and queen during halftime.

The weekend will conclude with a 7 p.m. CT rededication of the college's 87-year-old V.P. Henry Auditorium, followed by a 7:30 p.m. CT performance of the comedy Don't Dress for Dinner, directed by LWC Assistant Professor of Theatre Robert Brock.

For more information about LWC's 2012 homecoming weekend, Nov. 2-3, contact the LWC Alumni Office at alumni@lindsey.edu or (270)384-8212. A listing of events is available at bit.ly/lwhomecoming2012.

• "Unusual Suspects"

prison without the possibility of parole for 25 years.

Meece also pleaded guilty and received the same sentence of life without parole for 25 years, but later asked to withdraw his plea and have a jury trial. The late Circuit Judge James Weddle allowed Meece to withdraw his plea, and in a trial that took place in Warren County Circuit Court, Meece was found guilty of the three murders, first degree burglary, first degree robbery and was sentenced to death, a sentence he has continued to appeal.

According to Charlotte Bigford, Jr. Publicist for Discovery Communications, Inc., on Unusual Suspects, each one-hour episode showcases some of the most baffling and challenging cases in contemporary law enforcement, and commends the unwavering investigations that led to the arrest of these unlikely culprits. Featuring in-depth interviews from some of America's top investigative forces, viewers find out how these illusive offenders evaded justice for years, and how persistent police work and a passion for justice ultimately got them caught.

Kathy Williamson, Executive Producer for Unusual Suspects, said in a telephone interview that they have five people doing research for cases for the show, and when they came across the Wellnitz' case, they knew it was a perfect fit.

"We look for cases that are very complicated, drawn out affairs that have unusual suspects, and Wellnitz Appleton and Meece were definitely unusual suspects.

"First, daughters don't usually kill their family members, especially ones that haven't been in any type of trouble before," she said. "And, it's so tragic because she had a wealthy grandmother and would have inherited a lot of money without committing these crimes.

"And, the guy (Meece) who did it was also an unusual suspect, as he'd never killed anyone before or had been in serious trouble."

On Unusual Suspects, Williamson said they honor the investigators and the victims, not the ones that committed the crimes.

"The investigators, even though they may have had a gut feeling from the start that the daughter did it, they didn't have any evidence linking her to the crime," she said. "They worked the case for many years, stayed with it, and finally got the break they needed to make the arrests.

They need to be recognized for their work, and we do that on the show.

"We also honor the victims. It's usually the murderer or murderers who get all the attention, but not on this show. We never talk to them, although we may play some of their testimonies.

"We honor the victims by interviewing people who talk about their memories of the victims and show just how wonderful they really were, and the Wellnitz' appeared to be wonderful."

LMNO Productions began filming and interviewing people -- investigators, prosecutors, friends, family, employees and others with connections to the family and the case -- earlier this month, and the one-hour show is in the production process.

It will air for the first time on Investigation Discovery on Sunday, Nov. 18, at 9 p.m. Central Time. Unusual Suspects episodes are normally broadcast several times on different days and at different times.

South Warren Spoils Senior Night For Indians

BY WES FEESE

Friday night was senior night for the Indians football squad, and they came into the night with a chance to clinch home field advantage for the first round of playoffs, but couldn't pull out the W as South Warren escaped with the 42-23 victory.

"We'd like to be playing at home for playoffs, obviously," said Indian Head Coach Travis Gay. "But we didn't play well – we didn't do what teams that win district championships do."

Adair caught bad breaks pretty well from the opening kickoff, when Alex Nickerson booted one all the way to the goal line, but shoddy tackling allowed for a long 82-yard return all the way to the Indian 18 yard line. It didn't take long for South Warren to punch home the night's first points, on a one yard run right through the Adair defensive line. Andrew Upton's extra point made the early deficit 7-0.

Adair came charging right back. After taking over on their own 38 after a decent return by Arron Bernard, Jake Hixson found running back Derek Grant for a 15 yard gain through the air. The Indians picked up another 12-yard chunk just moments later on another Hixson-Grant connection, before the running game took over. Grant picked up 17 on the ground on a run up the middle that he was able to cut to the outside, and eventually found the end zone on a six yard rush with 8:18 left in the first quarter. South Warren kept the 7-6 lead though when Nickerson's extra point try was blocked.

South Warren wouldn't take much time to stretch the lead back out. After a couple of running plays moved the ball out to the South Warren 40, quarterback Jay Eblen shook loose from the Adair defense and scampered 60 yards to the end zone to give South Warren a 14-6 lead after Upton's extra point.

The Indian offense stalled on their next possession, and they were forced to punt the ball away with just over four minutes remaining in the first. The period ended 14-6.

South Warren's drive eventually ended when they were forced to punt, but they did set up a long, 90 yard field in front of the Indians by downing their punt on the AC 10.

Adair found a little success in their passing game, as Hixson hit both Emory Bishop and Derek Grant for big gains on the drive. Adair was eventually faced with fourth down on South Warren's 15. The field goal unit came on and did their job, as Alex Nickerson knocked a high one right through the uprights from 32 yards out to make the score 14-9.

Adair's defense looked to have new life on the ensuing South Warren possession. Linebacker Will Hixson led a heated charge into the South Warren backfield that resulted in two consecutive sacks and set up third down with 20 yards to go.

South Warren was able to convert the third and long on a wide receiver reverse run by Joel Iyiegbunnie. "When we had chances to make tackles, we didn't bring them down," Gay said. "They did." With 49 ticks left in the first half, Jay Eblen found Drew Wilken for a 20 yard TD over top of the Adair defense. The extra point made the score 21-9 South Warren at the half.

Adair's first possession of the third quarter ended in a punt, and South Warren was able to extend their lead further on a ten yard run for six late in the third. Jake Hixson ran for a late score and also hooked up with Emory Bishop for a fourth quarter TD through the air, but the 19-point deficit held through the rest of the half as South Warren cruised away with the 42-23 win.

Quarterback Jake Hixson had another solid day both passing and running, and he threw for 219 yards and a touchdown, and also rushed for 67 yards and a score. Wide out Emory Bishop hauled in four catches for 62 yards and a score, while Austin Roy and Antonio Mendoza each caught one pass. Running back Derek Grant didn't have the kind of success he's been used to on the ground, amassing a modest 69 yards rushing and one touchdown.

Grant did have his biggest game of the year catching the ball though. The senior caught eight passes on the night for 140 yards. Alex Nickerson accounted for five of the Tribe's points on a 32-yard field goal and two extra points. He also came up with a second half interception.

With the loss Adair saw their hopes of hosting a playoff game disappear but Coach Gay is confident the setback won't affect his group. "We've been a really level headed group all year. We're looking forward to getting back on the horse and going to Russell County Friday night," Gay said. "It's been a good rivalry over the years, but a little one sided lately."

Running back Derek Grant put Adair's first points on the board Friday night on a six yard rush up the middle. Grant racked up 209 all-purpose yards on the night.

Alex Nickerson had an interception, kicked a 32-yard field goal and two extra points in the Tribe's loss to South Warren.

On November 6, the voters of Adair and Casey counties will elect a new Circuit Judge to serve the two counties.

In May of this year, following a great deal of thought, prayer, and encouragement by family, colleagues, and friends, I filed to run for this position. I am seeking the office of Circuit Judge to serve the people of these two great counties, applying not only the training and experience that I have gained throughout my legal career, but also the values and principles that I hold dear.

Like a lot of people, I have had to work very hard to get where I am in life. I began working at the age of sixteen. I worked full-time as a manager at McDonald's in Columbia while attending Lindsey Wilson College full-time. I have always appreciated the value of hard work. That appreciation goes hand in hand with the appreciation that I have for the fundamental values of fairness and equality.

If elected your next Circuit Judge, I will be fair to everyone who comes before me, regardless of their wealth, social status, or their prominence in the 'good ole boy' system. All decisions will be made in open court; there will be no 'back door deals' facilitated by those who believe they hold the power in this town.

I have made NO PROMISES to anyone during this campaign, EXCEPT a promise to the VOTERS to be the kind of judge Adair County and Casey County deserve: a judge who will be FAIR and IMPARTIAL, who will listen to people, and who will abide by the Kentucky Judicial Ethics Rules.

On November 6, elect a JUDGE FOR ALL PEOPLE, Vote #2 on the ballot, Vote JUDY D. VANCE for Circuit Judge.

I sincerely appreciate your support and vote on Tuesday, November 6th.

Paid for by Campaign Fund of Judy D. Vance, Kim Kean, Treasurer

My experience in Circuit Court over the past 10 years:

- Criminal Prosecution
- Criminal Defense
- Divorce
- Child Custody
- Child Visitation
- Child Support
- Grandparent Visitation
- Adoption
- Termination of Parental Rights
- Land Disputes
- Property Condemnation
- Contract Disputes
- Automobile Accidents
- Creditor Collection Cases
- Home Foreclosures
- Consumer Debt Cases

Upon graduation from law school, I worked as a law clerk for the late Hon. James G. Weddle, which gave me great insight into the Circuit Court Judge's position. From there, I worked as an Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney for Adair and Casey Counties for four years, prosecuting felony cases. In 2006, I went into private practice, where I have served a wide range of clients throughout south-central Kentucky. I also practice law in Federal Court in the Western District of Kentucky. If elected, I plan to draw from my varied experiences in courts that I routinely practice in to create and maintain an effective, efficient Circuit Court for all Adair and Casey Countians.

Indian offensive lineman and linebacker Will Hixson was one of six players recognized Friday for senior night. Pictured with Hixson are his father, Barry, and mother, Angie.

Documentary Film Connects Leopold to Modern Conservation Efforts at Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery

On November 9, 2012, Wolf Creek National Fish Hatchery (NFH) will host a free screening of a new film called Green Fire: Aldo Leopold and a Land Ethic for Our Time, the first full-length, high definition documentary film ever made about legendary conservationist Aldo Leopold. The film explores Aldo Leopold's life in the early part of the twentieth century and the many ways his land ethic idea continues to be applied all over the world today.

Green Fire is a production of the Aldo Leopold Foundation, the US Forest Service, and the Center for Humans and Nature. The 72 minute film shares highlights from Leopold's life and extraordinary career, explaining how he shaped conservation and the modern environmental movement. Although probably best known as the author of the conservation classic A Sand County Almanac, Leopold is also renowned for his work as an educator, philosopher, forester, ecologist, and wilderness advocate.

Beginning at 1 p.m. CST, the documentary illustrates Leopold's continuing influence by exploring current projects that connect people and land at the local level. Viewers will meet urban children in Chicago learning about local foods and ecological restoration. They'll learn about ranchers in Arizona and New Mexico who maintain healthy landscapes by working on their own properties and with their neighbors, in cooperative community conservation efforts. They'll meet wildlife biologists who are bringing back threatened and endangered species, from cranes to Mexican wolves, to the landscapes where they once thrived. The Green Fire film portrays how Leopold's vision of a community that cares about both people and land—his call for a land ethic—ties all of these modern conservation stories together and offers inspiration and insight for the future. Leopold's ideas remain relevant today, continuing to inspire projects nationwide that connect communities with the natural world.

Learn more about the Aldo Leopold Foundation and the Green Fire movie at fws.gov/wolfcreek/.

Wolf Creek NFH utilizes the film as an outreach tool to renew partner organizations relationships with existing contacts and constituents. Fall Chores-Soil Testing and Variety Selection

It's hard to believe that the 2013 growing season is less than 6 months away, yet it's none too early to start planning for next year's crop. A number of decisions lie ahead that must be made including planting intentions, fertilizer, and variety selection. Getting an early start in planning will pay dividends.

Fall is a great time to soil test. Soil testing in the fall allows lime applications to be made (if necessary) to allow some time for the pH to be adjusted before the crop is planted in the spring. It will take a full year for the soil to reach the target pH after a lime application; however some improvements in pH may be seen within the first 6 months after lime application. The target soil pH for corn and soybeans is 6.4 while tobacco is 6.6 and alfalfa 6.8. Of the two crops, corn is the least sensitive to low pH and can perform well at a pH as low as 5.8. If a field has a soil test pH of 5.5 in the fall, it would be risky to plant soybeans, alfalfa, or tobacco even if lime is applied this fall. While still a moderate risk, applying lime this fall and planting the field in corn in the spring would be the best row cropping option available. Many farmers ask about using pelletized lime for a "quick fix". Most pelletized lime contains the same relative neutralizing value of ag lime; therefore will perform no better than ag lime. The Adair County Cooperative Extension Service offers soil testing year-round. Samples are $6 each.

Fall is also a good time to make decisions on variety selection for corn and soybeans. Most years, top performing varieties sell out by January. Many companies also offer discounts and incentives for purchasing seed early. A good tool available to farmers to assist in making variety selection decisions are the UK Variety Trials which are conducted for corn, soybeans, and corn silage. Results of the UK Variety Trials are available online as well as at the Adair County Cooperative Extension Service.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

James Comer Makes Good On Promise Of Transparency With New And Improved KDA Website

Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner James Comer is keeping his promise of complete transparency on the Kentucky Department of Agriculture's expenditures with the launch of its new website, www.kyagr.com. In addition to a transparency link, the website enables users to easily find information about Kentucky agriculture, the department's consumer protection services, its social media channels, and the latest headlines.

"I said we were going to operate in the sunshine at the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, and this website accomplishes that goal," Commissioner Comer said. "I hope all Kentuckians will access this site to see our achievements in agriculture, consumer protection, and how we are efficiently utilizing taxpayer dollars."

The top screen provides pull-down menus to pages about department programs, rolling photos with headlines about major topics, and the most recent department news releases. The "Licensing and Laws" menu gives users quick access to laws and regulations on specific programs, licensing fees, and other important information. The "Online Services" menu enables users to go to agricultural websites, directories, the department staff directory, and other useful services.

Below the headlines are links to Commissioner Comer's commentary, a video message from the commissioner, hot topics, most viewed pages, and a schedule of public meetings. The "affiliate bar" is a series of icons with links to department-related sites, the Kentucky state government home page, and opendoor.ky.gov, the state's transparency portal. The site map at the bottom gives users another way to look for department programs and services. A new site search function powered by Google and improved search engine optimization make it easier for users to search the site.

Every page contains links to the department's e-newsletters – Kentucky Agricultural News and Kentucky Proud Connection, which is targeted to Kentucky Proud members – and to social media channels for the department and Kentucky Proud.

Again, to browse the new Kentucky Department of Agriculture website, go to www.kyagr.com.

Please help keep an animal warm, The Green River Animal Shelter is in need of your donations: Blankets, Towels, and any cleaning supplies would be appreciated.

Members of the 2012 Adair County 4-H Ham Project.

2013 4-H Country Ham Project

Do you like to eat country ham? Would you would like to learn how country ham is processed and process your own country ham? If the answer is YES to these questions, then the 4-H Country Ham project is for you.

What

4-H members throughout the state spend several months preparing their hams for the Fair, where their meat is judged by commercial country ham producers according to its smell, roundness, color, and texture.

When

To sign up for the project, youth and parents must complete the Country Ham Project Agreement and pay the $55.00 fee. Starting sometime in January, youth will meet to start curing their hams. This year will be cure them in the Adair County 4-H Ham House. Youth will also have to attend regular meetings to complete the required six hours of trainings to learn about hams and the curing process. In August, the ham will be taken to the Kentucky State Fair to be judged and youth will give a speech.

After the Hams are Cured

Youth are required to give a presentation on any aspect of the project such as nutrition or value added. In addition, the processors evaluate ham on such factors as leanness, shape, appearance, and aroma. The combined presentation and judging scores determine the overall winner. This takes place during the Kentucky State Fair.

Benefits

Youth develop valuable technical merit, communications, research and organizational skills from the presentations. Persistence and responsibility are among the traits 4-H members develop during the nine months they cure hams at the processing plant. Youth also learn to appreciate the importance of value added to a raw commodity. And, there's a financial benefit. All participants also receive a State Fair premium.

Cost

Participants pay a $55.00 fee This year each youth will be able to keep both hams or keep one of the hams and the second ham will be auctioned off at an event. The livestock club will get 10% of the sale to use with the club and 10% will go to the Ham Scholarship. Auction money will be divided equally between the members who participate in the ham project.

Failure to complete the project will results in forfeiture of the 2 hams and the $55.00 fee.

The deadline to sign up for the Country Ham project is November 30, 2012.

Adair County is limited to 20 participants, so this will be a first come - first served sign-up. Applications can be picked up at the Adair County Cooperative Extension Service located at 409 Fairground Street.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability, or national origin.

Even The Best Gardener Can Be Driven To Commit "Crepe Murder"

Join the Adair County Garden Club on TODAY at 1:00 central for "Landscaping with Crepe Myrtles" presented by Beth Rutherford. The class will be held in the basement of the Columbia Adair Chamber of Commerce, 201 Burkesville Street, Columbia. Everyone is invited to attend.

Beth Rutherford is a Master Gardener with nearly two decades of experience cultivating one of her favorite garden plants the "Crepe Myrtle". She will share her secrets of successful growing of this all but forgotten garden icon of the south including planting, care and pruning – sometimes sadly known as Crepe Murder.

Everyone at the class will receive a free Crepe Myrtle to plant in their own garden. Additional Crepe Myrtles will be available for sale to students at the extraordinary price of $3.00 each.

Early registration is recommended. Class tuition is free for active ACGC members and $5.00 for non-members and in-active members. To register please contact Barbara Armitage at 270.250.2979.

The Garden Club meets at 1:00 Central time on the 4th Thursday of each month in a variety of locations. Each meeting is designed to expand your knowledge of gardening techniques, landscape ideas, environmental issues, natural resources, birds, wildlife and more.

There are no fees or dues to be a member of the Garden Club and everyone is welcome.

We are committed to making Adair County a more beautiful, safer and healthier place to live. Adair County Garden Club members take pride in our community and invite you join us and make a difference.

For more information on the activities of the ACGC or to join us please contact Barbara Armitage at 270.250.2979.

Hunting packages available at Greenbo State Resort Park

FRANKFORT, Ky. - Greenbo Lake State Resort Park in northeastern Kentucky is offering special lodging and hunting packages for deer and turkey hunters. Packages include meals and lodging at the park's Jesse Stuart Lodge in Greenup County. Available hunts include archery-only deer hunts, or turkey hunts in the fall or spring seasons. These are not quota hunts, but are bonus hunts open to those who purchase the special package from the park. "Greenbo State Resort Park is especially well-suited for hunting," said Rick Mauro, northeastern region public lands wildlife biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "Deer and turkeys are abundant on the park's 3,250 acres of heavily forested habitat. State parks juggle many objectives including good stewardship of game populations. Hunting deer and turkeys not only provides recreational opportunity, but it also plays a key role in management of these species." Deer hunting dates for 2012 include Nov. 1-4, Nov. 29-Dec. 2 and Dec. 13-16. These archery-only hunts offer a bonus opportunity, as two deer may be taken on bonus permits issued by Greenbo Lake State Resort Park. These permits do not count toward the statewide deer bag limit. The two deer may be antlerless (female or button buck) or hunters may take one antlerless and one antlered deer (buck). This gives participating hunters a chance at harvesting an additional antlered deer. The park also offers fall turkey shotgun hunts on Oct. 27-29 and Dec. 4-7. For next spring's turkey season, the park offers hunts on Apr. 15-17, 2013 and Apr. 22-24, 2013. Turkeys bagged during these hunts do count toward statewide bag limits. Each hunt requires a separate package. Each package includes three days of hunting, three nights at the Jesse Stuart Lodge and breakfast, lunch and dinner each day. Packages cost $225 a person for double occupancy and $335 a person for single occupancy. For more information on the Greenbo Lake State Resort Park hunting packages, email stephanie.poplin@ky.gov. For reservations, call 1-800-325-0083.

Education...in the News

Brian Vavrek Begins Pharmacy School at Samford University

Brian James Vavrek of Columbia participated in a recent White Coat ceremony for members of the Class of 2016 at Samford University's McWhorter School of Pharmacy.

Vavrek is beginning a four-year professional curriculum that leads to a Doctor of Pharmacy degree. Students must complete two or more years of undergraduate coursework prior to entering pharmacy school.

The ceremony at Shades Mountain Baptist Church on October 5 included the presentation of a white coat to each student prior to their taking the pledge to the American Pharmaceutical Association's code of professionalism. Each student selected a professional mentor to assist with the ceremony. Vavrek selected Connie Prostko, mother and nurse practitioner as his coater.

This year's entering pharmacy class includes 122 students from 12 states and one foreign nation. Samford's McWhorter School of Pharmacy enrolls a total of 497 students.

Samford University is consistently ranked in the top tier of its peer group by U.S. News & World Report. Founded in 1841, it is the largest private university in Alabama with more than 4,700 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled annually. The university offers undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees in eight schools: arts, arts and sciences, business, divinity, education, law, nursing and pharmacy. The nationally-recognized, fully-accredited McWhorter School of Pharmacy dates to 1927. Samford also is consistently recognized nationally as an exceptional value, with top academic programs and affordable tuition and fees.

Lindsey Wilson College freshman running back Cory Davenport of Hulen, Ky., stretches to reach the goal line late in the third quarter of Saturday's game against Belhaven (Miss.) University at Blue Raider Stadium. Davenport was ruled out of bounds on the 3-yard line after a 6-yard run. He finished with 22 yards on seven carries, but LWC lost the game 35-7.

Turnovers Lead To Sixth Loss For Lindsey Wilson College Football

COLUMBIA, Ky. -- Seven turnovers, including two interceptions returned for touchdowns, doomed Lindsey Wilson College in a 35-7 loss to Belhaven (Miss.) on Saturday at Blue Raider Stadium. LWC fell to 2-6 on the season and 0-3 in the Mid-South Conference West. Belhaven improved to 4-4 overall and 3-1 in the MSC.

LWC's next game is against Bethel (Tenn.) University at 1:30 p.m. CT Saturday, Nov. 3, at Blue Raider Stadium, 928 Russell Road.

Junior wide receiver Matt Powers of Harrogate, Tenn., catches a 30-yard pass in the fourth quarter of Saturday's game against Belhaven (Tenn.) University at Blue Raider Stadium. For the game, Powers caught four passes for a game-high 99 yards, but LWC lost the game 35-7.

Two Basketball Legends Inducted Into Lindsey Wilson Athletic Hall Of Fame

Two new members were inducted Saturday into the Lindsey Wilson Athletic Hall of Fame.

Chris Dickerson, who played basketball from 1987-90, and the late Jim Voight, who coached men's basketball from 1970-73, were inducted at a morning ceremony at William T's at the Pines at Lindsey Wilson.

Dickerson -- a Bardstown, Ky., native who now lives in Louisville, Ky. -- is one of 11 LWC men's basketball players to score at least 1,000 career points. He finished his 2-1/2 year career with 1,270 points -- and still holds the LWC single-season scoring average record, set in 1989-90 with 20.8 points.

LWC won its first athletic national title in 1972 when Voight guided the men's basketball team to the National Little College Athletic Association championship. He finished his coaching career with more than 600 career wins. He died in 2003 at the age of 67.

Caluag Wins Women’s Dual Slalom National Title; LWC Cycling Ends Sixth at Mountain Bike Nationals

ANGEL FIRE, N.M. -- Stephanie Caluag became the second Lindsey Wilson College cyclist to capture an individual title at the USA Cycling Collegiate Mountain Bike National Championships. Caluag won the Women’s Dual Slalom national title today beating former teammate and 2011 national champion Crystal Kalogris in the finals.

During qualifying, Caluag recorded the third fastest time to advance to the 16-woman tournament-style bracket. She cruised into the finals where Kalogris -- who transferred to Marian (Ind.) University to move closer to her family over the summer -- waited.

Caluag won the first run of the two-race finals by 7-tenths of a second and secured the national title with another win during the second run.

She becomes the 13th cyclist to win the national title for the Blue Raiders and the second in as many days. J.D. Swanguen won his first national title on Saturday in the Downhill championships.

Lindsey Wilson’s Brooke Crum recorded a seventh place finish in the event falling to Kalogris in the quarterfinals.

While Caluag and Crum competed on the women’s side, five Blue Raiders made their run at winning the Men’s Dual Slalom.

Swanguen and Logan Collins each advanced to the semifinal round before falling. Swanguen eventually added a bronze medal to his Stars and Stripes finish from Saturday with a third place finish in the Dual Slalom.

Danny Caluag reached the quarterfinals of the event while Josh Patton and Ace Savarese reached the Round of 16.

With today’s finishes, the Blue Raiders moved to sixth place in the Team Omnium -- one spot off the podium.

Lindsey Wilson finished 412 team points over the three-day championships.

Fort Lewis (Col.) College won the team title with 701 points. University of Colorado-Boulder finished second with 625 points.

J.D. Swanguen and Stephanie Caluag each won national titles this weekend

Lindsey Wilson Named Champions of Character Five-Star Institution

KANSAS CITY, Mo. -- Lindsey Wilson College earned National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Champions of Character Five-Star Institution distinction for the 2011-12 season, NAIA officials announced this week.

Lindsey Wilson is one of 221 NAIA institutions to earn the honor reserved for institutions that score at least 60 points on the Champions of Character Scorecard.

According to the NAIA website, The Champions of Character Scorecard measures each institution’s commitment to the NAIA Champions of Character program. Points are earned in five key areas: character training, conduct in competition, academic focus, character recognition and character promotion.

“This is a great honor and something we strive to achieve each year at Lindsey Wilson College,” athletics director Willis Pooler said. “I’m proud of our department -- from our student-athletes to our coaches for the role they play on our campus and within our community in supporting the NAIA’s Champions of Character initiative.”

Lindsey Wilson scored 73 points on the Scorecard to earn the honor for the eighth consecutive year.

Five-Star award recipients are recognized on the NAIA Champions of Character website. The institutions also receive a special web banner and certificate noting the honor.

Lindsey Wilson’s efforts helped the Mid-South Conference earn the Champions of Character Five-Star Conference award. Conferences must have 60 percent of their membership earn 60 points on the Scorecard in order to be named a Five-Star Conference.

LWC Women’s Soccer Beats UPike 7-0, Captures MSC Title

COLUMBIA, Ky. -- The Lindsey Wilson College women’s soccer team clinched the outright Mid-South Conference regular season title tonight with a 7-0 win over visiting University of Pikeville at Walter S. Reuling Stadium.

The MSC championship is the program’s 13th straight regular season crown. The Blue Raiders (12-2-1, 9-0 in the MSC) earn the conference’s top-seed in the tournament in early November.

Lindsey Wilson’s Mia Persson provided three goals and an assist in tonight’s win as the newly anointed No. 2-ranked Blue Raiders were less than hospitable -- out-shooting the visitors 26-0 and 18-0 in shots on-goal. Earlier today, Lindsey Wilson jumped one spot in the national poll to No. 2.

It took exactly 23 minutes for the Blue Raiders to penetrate the packed-in UPike zone for the first goal of the night.

Cecilia Ekstrand scored from deep inside the penalty area off Laerke Lillelund Michaelsen’s assist to give Lindsey Wilson the 1-0 lead.

Persson doubled the lead in 29th minute and Michaelsen added a third goal less than a minute later to push the Blue Raiders’ lead to 3-0.

Persson added the final goal of the first half in the 41st minute to send Lindsey Wilson into the half with a 4-0 lead.

In the second frame, Persson added her third goal of the night and her team-high 20th of the season to extend the lead to 5-0.

Therese Hagbyhn and Elizabet Madjarac placed the bow on the regular season crown with goals in the 69th and 88th minutes for the 7-0 win.

Pikeville falls to 4-10 overall and 0-9 in the MSC with the loss.

Lindsey Wilson returns to action at 7 p.m. CT on Friday, October 26 as the Blue Raiders host No. 14-ranked Martin Methodist (Tenn.) College at Walter S. Reuling Stadium.

The Bank of Columbia Board of Directors and employees introduce their new C.E.O.

The Board of Directors for Bank of Columbia would like to introduce their new C.E.O., Chris Quinn. Chris also serves as a member of the Board of Directors and has been with the bank for eight years. Prior to this, he was an examiner for the Kentucky Department of Financial Institutions for six years. He has lived in Adair County all his life except for his time in college. He started his college career at the University of Kentucky and finished with a Bachelor of Science Degree in accounting from Campbellsville University. He has recently completed a three year study at the Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University.

Chris is the son of Kenny and Jackie Quinn of the Knifley community. He is married to Ellen (Hagan) Quinn and has two children, Lilly and Evan. They are active members of the Columbia Baptist Church where he has served as Treasurer and Sunday school teacher. Chris and his family are very active in the children’s activities at the church.

Chris plans for the bank to continue placing the people of Adair County first and foremost while offering the best customer service you can get. He feels he is already a step in the right direction by having the best employees.

Marching For 21

Adair Band Striving For Another State Title

BY PAUL B. HAYES
EDITOR

After scoring the highest -88.45 - out of all the Class 3A bands that competed in the KMEA West Regional this past Saturday at Hart County, the Adair County High School Band will continue their quest for their third straight 3A state championship and 21st overall this Saturday afternoon at the KMEA Semi-Finals that will be held at Allen County-Scottsville.

The semi-finals bring together the top eight scoring bands from the East and West regionals, with the four top scoring bands advancing to the 3A state championship that will take place Saturday night at Houchens L.T. Smith Stadium on the campus of Western Kentucky University in Bowling Green.

The Adair County Band has had an outstanding marching season, claiming the grand champion trophy in each of the three regular season competitions, winning the Class A title at the Bands Of America Regional in Louisville and placing fourth highest overall in the finals.

Band director Tom Case said that he is proud of the way the band has done this year, and feels they have a good shot at another state title.

"I feel really good as to where we are right now, and I feel really good about our chances of winning a 21st state title," Case said in an interview this week.

"All we can do is do our best at the competition, and hope the judges like our show," he continued. "It's not like a ballgame where we could play defense against the other bands, we can just give it our best shot."

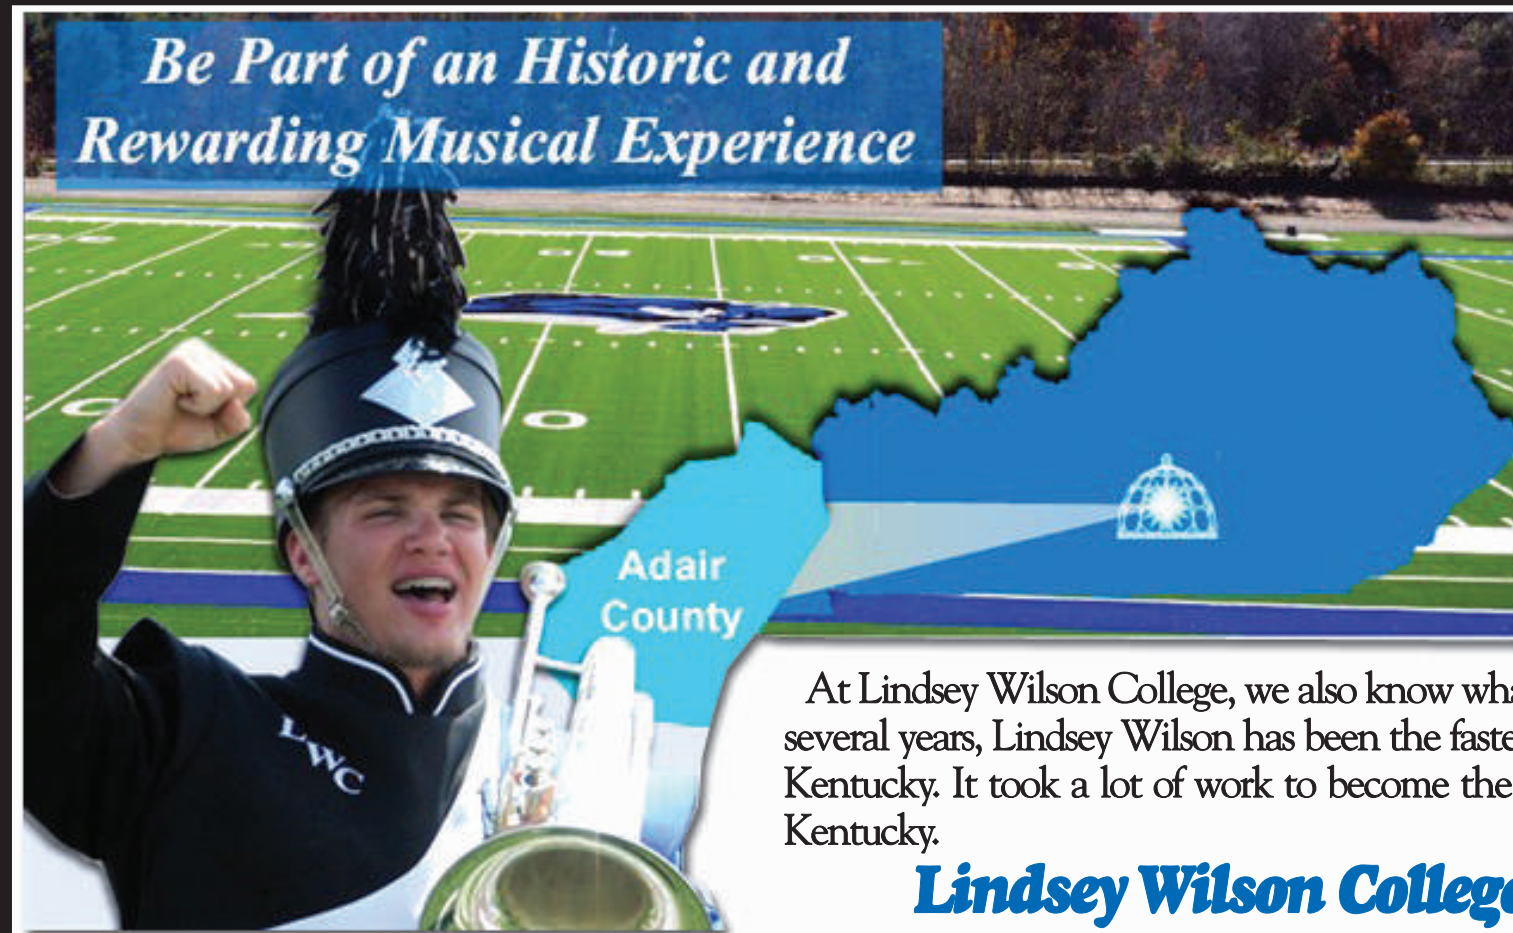

Adair County and Bourbon County, which is directed by Adair County native Eric Hale, have battled it out for Class 3A supremacy for the past several years. Bourbon County edged Adair for the title in 2008 and 2009, while Adair came out on top in 2010 and 2011. However, Case said that he thinks there will be some other competitors in the hunt for the state title this year.

"I think the scores between the first through fourth bands will be extremely close this year," he said. "While Bourbon County is our chief rival, I think Russell County and Taylor County are going to be right in the mix too."

Case said that he is extremely pleased with the way the band has progressed this year.

"This probably has been the fastest season I've ever been involved in," he said. "I attribute that to the progress the kids have made day after day and week after week, and I think this shows in our accomplishments."

When asked how the Adair County Band has been able to remain at a high level of achievement without having any let downs, Case said the accomplishments of prior Adair County bands plays a big role.

"Our tradition plays a big part in it," he said. "The kids, the parents, the directors all buy into our tradition, and they want to be the best they can be."

Adair County will take the field at 1:15 p.m. Saturday at Allen County-Scottsville.
